Carolyn C. Jordan

Partner

Carolyn C. Jordan, a Partner in Glaser Weil's Real Estate and Corporate Departments, handles both real estate and corporate transactions, ranging from straightforward to complex billion-dollar deals. She advises clients on corporate and real estate acquisitions and dispositions, as well as on secured and unsecured financings. She also has experience representing landlords of commercial, industrial and retail properties. Ms. Jordan keeps the clients' objectives at the forefront throughout the course of representation, so that the matter is handled effectively and efficiently.

Ms. Jordan received her bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from the University of California, Los Angeles and her law degree from the UCLA School of Law. At UCLA, she served on the editorial board of the Federal Communications Law Journal, and as the administrative chair of the UCLA Moot Court Honors Program. She also received the American Jurisprudence award in Real Property and was a member of the Order of the Barristers.

Martindale-Hubbell recognizes her as an AV Preeminent Rated Lawyer, the highest category awarded and indicates that a lawyer's peers rank him or her at the highest level of professional excellence. Ms. Jordan has also been selected for inclusion on the Souther California Super Lawyers list and in the Super Lawyers Corporate Counsel edition.

Ms. Jordan is very active in community service, presently serving on the Brentwood Community Council. She also supports her children's schools and advocates for children. She now serves on the Parents Campaign Philanthropy Board for George Washington University. She also served as a trustee of Village School, an independent elementary school in Pacific Palisades, California, as well as having served on various board committees for Brentwood School, an independent K-12 school in Los Angeles. Ms. Jordan is also involved in Save the Children as a member of its L.A. Associates. She supports her husband's service on the Board of the Southern California Chapter of United Cerebral Palsy.
