Patricia Glaser Selected to Daily Journal's Top Women Lawyers in California

Related Attorney(s): Patricia L. Glaser

Related Practice(s): Litigation

May 18, 2015 – Los Angeles - Patricia Glaser has been named as one of the Top Women Lawyers in California by the Daily Journal. This is one of the most meaningful tributes awarded to practicing lawyers in the state because the Daily Journal does not attempt to generate revenue in connection with its selections. The feature aims to recognize “excellent lawyering and leadership skills among women attorneys in California” and legal work making a significant impact.

Ms. Glaser, Partner and Chair of the Litigation Department, was recognized in particular for her work representing Sweetpea Entertainment Inc. in its dispute with Hasbro Inc. over the film rights to Dungeons & Dragons. The case involves sequel rights with respect to Dungeons & Dragons.

As a result of her dedication and proven skill, Ms. Glaser has received this high honor as one of Daily Journal's Top 100 Women Lawyers in California. Such an accolade is more than a recognition of work already done – it sets the standard of excellence by which the litigators assembled at the firm provide the highest-level of service from the law offices of Glaser Weil.
