Glaser Weil Ranked Among Top Lobbying Firms

Related Practice(s): Government & Regulatory

The Government & Regulatory Practice of Glaser Weil has been recognized for the third consecutive year as one of the top lobbying firms in L.A. County by the Los Angeles Business Journal. The Firm improved its position up to the 12th spot among the top 25 Lobbying Firms in this 2017 list that includes several national law firms.

Glaser Weil's Government & Regulatory practitioners have decades of experience representing clients through a broad range of activity. Over the past four years, Department Co-Chair Tim McOsker has developed the group into a sophisticated team that is involved in many local issues concerning land use and regulatory matters, as well as active before all agencies, departments and officials of municipal and county governments, in addition to special districts throughout California. Many of its practitioners previously worked for local governmental entities or served on local commissions, giving them a deep understanding of legislative and administrative procedures and agency culture, as well as connections with key staffers on various agencies and departments.
