Real Estate Attorney Carrie Risatti Joins Glaser Weil

Related Attorney(s): Carrie M. Risatti

Related Practice(s): Real Estate

Glaser Weil is pleased to announce the expansion of its Real Estate Group with the addition of Carrie M. Risatti as a Partner in its Century City office. Prior to joining the Firm, Risatti was a shareholder with Greenberg Traurig, LLP.

Ms. Risatti has built a national real estate practice, advising developers, investors and lenders in the multifamily, retail, industrial and commercial property sectors. She also represents clients in the acquisition, disposition and financing of skilled nursing facilities and has developed a subspecialty in advising real estate investment trusts on their transactional and investment matters.

“Carrie’s ability to navigate the complexities of a broad range of real estate matters strengthen our already accomplished Real Estate Practice,” said Roger Howard, Co-Chair of Firm’s Real Estate Department and Chair of the Corporate Department. “Her exceptional professionalism coupled with a tireless commitment to client service make her a valuable addition to our team.”

Ms. Risatti received her law degree from Washington and Lee University School of Law and her bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin at Madison.
