

LITIGATION

Class Action Litigation

Glaser Weil successfully represents clients named in class actions in a wide variety of practice areas and jurisdictions across the country. Our litigators handle class actions in areas that include antitrust, employment law and securities, including complex class action and derivative lawsuits.

Whether it be winning at summary judgment or settling before trial on terms that exceed client expectation, Glaser Weil's litigators work closely with clients to find outcomes in an efficient and effective way.

Our litigators have defended a mortgage corporation sued by dozens of homeowners for fraud and contract claims, a rental car company in a nationwide consumer class action and numerous clients in securities-related litigation.